[REDACTED] visited the Guided Missiles Branch for about three hours on 28 March 1958, to discuss economic intelligence aspects of the Soviet guided missile program. He was briefed in a general way on the program for research on guided missiles planned for the Economic Research Area for FY 59, and views were exchanged on a variety of items of mutual interest in the guided missiles field. [REDACTED] has recently been given added responsibilities in the field and will have an additional new person assisting him. An invitation was made for him and/or his associate to visit the Branch in the future. [REDACTED] stated he would like very much to send his new man to Washington for a few days orientation after he has become better acquainted with the guided missiles intelligence field.
